

Table of Contents

Pilot's Information &amp; Airfield Manual .....	1
External Links .....	2
Where has that link gone? .....	2
Why a Wiki? .....	2

Pilot's Information & Airfield Manual

Welcome to our Wiki which is packed full of essential information for Pilots flying at Portmoak.

AIRFIELD OPERATIONS MANUAL - ESSENTIAL reading for anyone flying at Portmoak

- A Brief History of the SGU \(aka SGC\)
- Condor & Simulator
- Evening Talks
- Governance
- Latest News
- Newsletters - Safety, The Gliders, and the Portmoak Press archives
- Online Resources
- Perkoz Build Progress
- PMK Instant
- Portmoak Webcams
- Safety
- The Board & Other Contacts
- XC

- List of all pages in this Wiki

External Links

- British Gliding Association
- GLAMIS - Online Accounts System
- Members Forum
- Restart
- Scottish Gliding Centre
- YouTube - our channel

Where has that link gone?

The old Pilot's area has a lot of links in a very, very long list with no clear structure to help find the right link. These links are nearly all somewhere in this new Pilot's Wiki, and Where Has It Gone annotates what has gone where. The omitted links were either dead with no replacement easily found, or no longer relevant.

Why a Wiki?

There are lots of reasons for using a Wiki to present a lot of information, since in this case some of it is changing frequently. For us, this is especially true of the Airfield Manual. You can read more in Benefits of a Wiki.

From:

<https://pilots.scottishglidingcentre.co.uk/> - Portmoak Pilot's Information and Airfield Manual

Permanent link:

<https://pilots.scottishglidingcentre.co.uk/start>

Last update: 2021/06/28 09:27

